WELCOME TO DELEGATES

During the Congress a fountain pen was found in the Bond Street Church and a fur and song book in the Massey Hall. The goods can be had at the Young People's Department, on proof of ownership.

A HOLY LIFE

There may be something in your family, or your business, which will be very strongly opposed to your leading a holy life. You may have died before, only to fail again and again. You may be full of doubts and fears, even to despair. It is evident that nothing short of a great salvation will meet your case; but you will be equal to the undertaking; I am sure He will.—The Inland Empire.

It gives me back my peace.

A Prayer
Lord, we pray Thee especially this time to bless all those who are in trouble and distress. To many of them no way out presents itself
they are hemmed in on every side and despair besets them. Do it in Thy great mercy reveal the way to them, reach forth Thine arm and save them. Give unto us the joy of Thy Salvation, that we may praise Thee for ever. Hear in these things, for Jesus Christ's sake, Amen.

"And a little child shall lead them,"—Isaiah 11:6.

LEADS SUCCESSFUL SUNDAY CAMPAIGN AT ST. JAMES

Seven Souls Forward for Salvation

At the conclusion of the meetings on Sunday, Nov. 5th, St. James' Church (Winnipeg, Y.) had cause to rejoice and praise God, for visible results attended the efforts put forth.

Lieut.-Colonel and Mrs. Turner led on, assisted by Staff-Captain Sims and the Men's Social Staff, Staff-Captain Robert Smith, of Alaska, and Envoy Neil of Toronto.

What a day of blessing it was! The Presence of God was keenly felt in the morning service, at which a good crowd was present. The local comrades turned out well. The addresses of the different speakers tended to give a variety to the proceedings. The Territorial Secretary's words were so full of life and hearts of the hearers, and certainly had a reviving and inspiring effect, and their desires to render God a whole-hearted service were intensified.

Under the leadership of the Colonel, there was not a dull moment in the afternoon "Free-and-Easy" held in the King's Theatre. The Band was out in full force, and greatly added to the success of the meeting.

Envoy Neil read the Scripture lesson, and Staff-Captain Sims gave a special address to the Young People. The Staff-Captain seldom fails to interest both young and old.

The night meeting was a fitting climax to the day's campaign. The theatre was well filled, in fact, twice the number of people were present than had been accommodated in The Army Hall.

Some of the Soldiers had such a strong conviction that souls would be saved, that seven chairs were placed at the front to form a Mercy Seat, and, sure enough seven souls sought Christ in the prayer meeting.

Among those who addressed the congregation were Major Hay (the Alberta Divisional Commander), Staff-Captain Sims, Staff-Captain R. Smith, and Envoy Ham. Sister Mrs. McGowan and her daughter sang a duet.

Lieut.-Colonel Turner gave a powerful and very effective Salvation address, talking for his text "Thou art weighed in the balance, and found wanting."

Captain and Mrs. Allen (the Officers in charge of the Corps) are to be congratulated for the systematic effort put forth by them to bring to the notice of the public the day's special campaign.

HOME LEAGUE

Has Programme of Music at Meeting

On Monday afternoon at Bellevue we held our Home League meeting. We had a nice crowd and a good time. Sister Mrs. Henley and little Eric Naylor recited, and Sister Mrs. Cordes sang. We had transposition selections, and at the close, we had tea and cake. The visiting Sergeants are doing their best to visit their districts, and we are believing for good times this winter.

Sister Mrs. Lessels is unable to attend many of the meetings, but she visits every comrade who has to go to the hospital, and is a great help and blessing there. The majority of our Home League members have their husbands at the front.

CHRISTMAS CHEER

FOR OUR COMRADES IN KHAKI—WHAT WINNIPEG I. HAS DONE FOR THEM

THERE is hardly a Corps throughout the Dominion of Canada which has not given of its best to the service of King and country in connection with the great struggle which has been going on between the nations for the last two years, and is still raging with unabated fury.

Winnipeg I. Corps certainly has a place in the front rank, from the standpoint of the number of local comrades and adherents who have enlisted. Those left behind "to mind the stuff" have kept in close touch with those serving "under the Colours," whether they are in Canada, England, or France.

Lact Christmas, boxes of comfort and cheer were sent to them. This year, however, when those responsible set to work to secure the names and addresses they found there were close upon one hundred connected with the Corps who were now serving the King.

To send a box of "Christmas Cheer" to such a large number would of necessity entail considerable expense. But this did not discourage the energetic Officers in charge. Adjutant and Mrs. Howell arranged for a Musical Festival to be given at the Citadel, proceeds of which were to help defray the cost of purchasing the contents and of dispatching the Christmas boxes referred to.

The festival took place recently, and was a splendid success from every standpoint. Brigadier Taylor (the Divisional Commander) presided. The vocal solos of Miss Chafe and the instrumental solos rendered by Miss Malcolm were very much appreciated by the audience. The Citadel Band, under the conductorship of Adjutant Pugmire, played exceedingly well.

The Territorial Salvation Singers sang two vocal selections, which were well received, as was also the Male Choir. Among the other items that were worthy of commendation were an instrumental quartette, a violin solo, a reading, and a vocal selection by the Sunbeam Choir.

In addition to the admittance charge, a special appeal for funds was made to the audience, who responded very liberally indeed.

It has been no small undertaking to pack, wrap up, and label these hundreds or so boxes, but Adjutant and Mrs. Howell, with their band of workers, made light work of it. Recruiting Sergeant Mrs. Cousins and Mrs. Envoy Williams are deserving of special mention, as are also Sisters Mrs. Vinick, Nelson, Donnelly, Soutis, and Newmans. Sisters Kathleen Williams and Millicent Aldridge undertook the typing of the labels and dispatching of letters.

Bandmaster Newman is at present Bandmaster of the 144th Battalion Band, now in England. His brother Bert is at the front. Sister Vinal's husband and two sons are in training, as are also the three sons of Sister Mrs. Chapman. One of Sister Mrs. Stanley and Marshall Burdett's sons is serving in the trenches, and a number of others too numerous to mention.

Adjutant Howell and Envoy Williams frequently receive letters from most of the boys, the majority of whom are standing true to God and the principles of The Army. At times and again God has used their prayers to His honour and glory, who has resulted in the extension of His Kingdom in the hearts of many of their comrades.

Up to the present, none of the Winnipeg I. "boys" have had to surrender, and the fact that William Gilbert has been wounded, and is now in a hospital in England. Our prayers are continually to the Theses for those who are fighting our battles, and also for the dear ones left behind.

NAVAL MEN

Have Great Times in Grand Corps No. 1.

Salvationists in the Grand Fleet have received permission to hold their own Church Services on Sunday mornings—an opportunity on a certain island if the weather is fine, an indoor meeting if it does not happen to be wet.

Thus, as might be expected, has been taken full advantage of by the comrades, and some splendid meetings have been held. Brigadier General Davey, P.O., who is in charge of the "Grand Fleet Corps No. 1" as he calls it, says that they are ready a hundred strong, and that they are praying earnestly for the conversion of their fellow-sailors.

"God is blessing each one of them," he adds, in his breezy and unworldly way, "and is helping us to win souls for Jesus!"

Swiss Salvationists have taken a disinterest in shaving out of their internal articles to British officers interested at Murren.

WEST INDIES

GOOD FORCE IN SCATTERED TERRITORY.

In the West Indies The Army commenced work in 1892. In this scattered Territory there are eighty-eight Corps and Outposts, with nearly 150 Officers, Cadets, and employees, and a good soul-saving work is being carried on.

In Kingston (Jamaica) there is a commodious Central Hall, with Officers' Training College, and Headquarters attached. Eleven Social Institutions are at work.

Fifty souls have recently sought Salvation at Olstens, a small Outpost in Jamaica (writes Colonel Bullock), and fifteen more have been sworn-in as Soldiers.

We have commenced work on the island of St. Kitts. So far all Salvation fighting is being done in the open-air, and the appearance of the Flag is the signal for the gathering of a huge crowd. Many of the people bring their own boxes on which to sit. Already thirty souls have knelt in the open-air and sought deliverance from sin.

A new Hall has been erected at St. Ann's Bay. The Jamaica Reserve Regimental Band attended the opening. Hundreds of people were unable to obtain admission to the ceremony, which resolved itself into a prayer meeting, when a number of good captives were made.

There is much unemployment as a result of the recent hurricane. "We have," continues the Colonel, "by the help of International Headquarters, been able to assist many people to rebuild their houses and to sow vegetables."

JAPAN

FORTY-FIVE CADETS WELCOMED—TWENTY-THREE SOULS SURRENDER

Forty-five new Cadets (writes Lieut.-Colonel Yamamoto) have entered the Tokio Training College. At their welcome in the spacious Mongu Tabernacle twenty-three men and women sought pardon or purity.

The youngest Cadet comes from the most northern Corps in the Territory. When thirteen years of age she was asked by her school teacher what she intended to become when she grew up. "A Salvation Army Officer," she replied.

This, to them, strange reply provided much amusement for the school officials, who ridiculed the idea of women ever thus coming to the front; but the girl kept her purpose, and became a Corps Cadet. That there are nearly as many women as men in the new Sessun indicates the success which has attended The Army's efforts to elevate the womanhood of Japan.

Encouraging reports are reaching us concerning soul-saving breaks at the Corps recently opened in the West.

A military officer the other day called on the Officers of The Salvation Army's Rest Rooms in England and asked for a number of cards containing the address and particulars of the institution so that he might hand them to any of his men who might need accommodation when in that town. "I'd rather have them with The Salvation Army than with anybody else," he said.

Indian "War Sunday"

WHOLE VILLAGES WANT TO LEARN ABOUT GOD—HELPING "GANG 15"—FIVE HUNDRED SALVATION HALLS TO BE ERECTED

A FEATURE of the Winter Salvation Campaign to start throughout India will be a "War Sunday," when all the forces will concentrate upon new fields, and seek to win the God villages that are still heathen.

A glorious soul-saving work is in progress in many directions. At one Corps in South Travancore twenty-six Hindus have been converted; at another ten heathen families have come over to The Army; a devil-dancer has also been captured.

The people of several villages having written to Colonel Murren (Case) asking for The Army to come and teach them and their children about the true God, it has been decided to form an Outpost at each place.

The Madanapalli Criminal Settlement in the Madras Presidency comprises some 850 acres of land, which at one time was all jungle (says the Indian "War Cry"). The police inspector remarked on his recent visit that "it was changed, even to the colour of the concrete streets, which were much greener than ever before."

Four hundred and fifty people—known as "Gang 15"—live there. They are Criminals who call themselves Euculians. For many years they had been taught to steal and to kill, and the lowest crime possible here they are to-day, struggling hard to learn how to be good, how to earn an honest living, and, best of all, being taught about Jesus and His love!

The General's decision, that five hundred of the mud and wattle buildings used as Salvation Army Halls in the villages of India are to be replaced by erections of brick and slate, has given keen satisfaction to Salvationists in that vast country. For a considerable time the need for such a departure has been realized. Every year much damage has been done to the existing Halls during the rainy seasons, and a few of them have utterly collapsed.

The rapid growth of The Salvation Army in India is a fact of which the Government is fully cognizant.

DUTCH INDIES

DISTINGUISHED VISITORS AT HEADQUARTERS AND NAVAL MILITARY HOME

While in Bandone (Java) recently the Countess van Limburg, wife of the Governor-General of the Dutch Indies, called at The Army's Headquarters, and, after looking over the building, had a long conversation with Colonel Murren about the work of the Organization. The Colonel introduced the Officers to her ladyship, to whom he also showed plans of the new Headquarters and Children's Home in the city. On leaving she gave a substantial donation towards the work.

The same evening the Governor-General and the Countess visited our military Home. The conclusion of the inspection the Governor-General spoke of his pleasure and surprise at the extent, richness, and comfort of the premises and in sion Army; its ever increasing sphere of usefulness; the fruitful results which follow its work; and the insistent calls which reach it from heathens who are dying without news of Salvation, all of which necessity for advance in this direction.

Of course, the speed with which the Halls will be erected will be governed by the generosity of Army friends, but The General is confident that with a realization of the need of India's heathen millions, ready help will be forthcoming, and he has issued an order for the immediate erection of the first fifty. Plans for the majority of these have been passed, and as we write the Halls are in process of construction.

Every Territory in the Dependency will have its quota, and while there will be "nation of design, there will be uniformity in several directions. For instance, associated with all of these Halls there will be class rooms, for though primarily places where Salvation meetings will be held, they will be used as Day Schools and Night Schools, and attached to some of them will be a dispensary, where simple fever and cholera remedies, such as quinine and iodine, may be obtained by stricken villagers. Then, too, these new Halls will be used as Headquarters for the Officer in charge of the Corps in the surrounding district.

Each Hall will be surrounded by sufficient ground to make possible the raising of market produce. This will work out advantageously in two directions. Firstly, the children who attend the Day Schools will be taught, in addition to scholastic studies, how to cultivate certain vegetables, and the money yield of the stuff thus raised will, if only in a small way, help support the school.

These Halls will be called "Sena Halls" (Army Halls). The peculiar advantage of the name lies in the fact that it is heathen, and is therefore understandable to the five-sixths of India's three hundred millions.

In conjunction with the Countess, he expressed to Colonel de Groot his desire to supply a special table to the Home.

A Norwegian Sailor's Request

A Naval and Military Leaguer, while engaged on certain important duty, came across a Norwegian Salvationist in distress and offered him hospitality. He refused to accept anything, but was taken to a quiet corner where I can thank God for my deliverance."

The Leaguer said, "There are not many neat corners, mate, but I will take you where we can pray together!"

"Are you a Salvationist?" asked the Norwegian, who had quickly detected something familiar in the ring of his new friend's words.

"Yes, Hallelujah!" Then together they knelt and prayed.

Eleven acres of land have been added to The Army's Farm for workless men at Rondebosch, South Africa.

SOUTH AMERICA

VIGOROUS SALVATION WINTER CAMPAIGN

Night Search for Homeless Men—Fourteen Out of Seventeen Sought God.

A vigorous Salvation Winter Campaign has been launched every corner of the Argentine, South American Territory, and many captures have already been made.

The municipal authorities of Buenos Ayres (writes Brigadier Devell) have arranged for The Salvation Army to receive from thence any beggars they may arrest, in order to test their willingness to work.

In this connection Colonel Palmer and a party of Headquarters Social Officers, on several night searches, have met with the homeless. During one night only we gathered together seventeen miserably clad and forlorn men. Next morning each man was habited "harmlessly," rigged out with decent clothing, and inspected by the chief police officer of the district, who was loud in his praises.

In the Salvation meeting at night fourteen of these men came to the Penitent Form; and on Monday morning they commenced work in the various municipal homes.

With the setting in of the cold weather a mid-day soup kitchen for families has been opened at Boca. In connection with the ceremony of the Declaration of Argentine Independence our Officers have assisted the various municipal authorities in the provision of food and clothing for the poor.

SCANDINAVIA

NEW HOMES FOR CHILDREN AND OLD PEOPLE

Our Home for small children (says the Norwegian "War Cry") has had a troubled existence since it was opened in September, 1914. In the short time that has elapsed we have been compelled, through unavoidable circumstances, to change the location of the Home twice. We are now rejoicing over the fact that this institution will shortly be housed under its own roof. A building has been purchased.

A Swedish "War Cry," a tiny Holiday Home has been established for the old ladies from the Shelter in Stockholm. The first group arrived recently—seven women, tired and old, who daily have the greatest difficulty in earning the small sum necessary for food and house-room.

Most of them live all the year round at the Shelter. For fourteen days now they will receive free board and lodging in the Holiday Home, and at the end of that time they will be followed by others.

It is proposed to open a new Lapp Corps Centre at Avidsjaur, in the Province of Norrbotten (Sweden), in addition to this the work among the Lapps in the Jantland Province is being developed.

A Catholic soldier called at the Dublin Shelter the other day and said he could not pass the door without calling in to acknowledge his indebtedness to The Salvation Army Ambulance men, whose prompt action had saved his life at the front.

The Power That Saves

There are many who make the mistake of supposing that they can serve God without having His power in their lives. We meet them often in Army prayer meetings, and their usual reply to the question as to whether they are converted is: "No—but I'm doing the best I can." Thus they tell themselves into imaginary security.

Their condition is well illustrated by comparison with a street car. Until contact is made with the power line above, the car is at a standstill. It is not that there is no power to move it; the power is there all the time, but the necessary contact must be made, bringing that power into the machinery of the car.

So it is with the sinner. Mere outward religious observances will not save him; trying to be good in his own strength will only result in repeated failures; he cannot walk the straight and narrow way with a heart that constantly inclines toward the broad way. Yet the power that can lift him out of this condition and set him running Zionwards with hinds' feet, is there all the time. What is lacking is the actual contact, and this can only be brought about by repentance, prayer and faith. There is sufficient power in the Gospel of the Grace of God and the convicting, regenerating, and sanctifying influences of the Holy Spirit to save the whole world. Oh! that we can get more and more of humanity to make the necessary contact with that power; for unless they do, it is a tragic fact, not a fiction by any means, that they will be eternally lost.

All the women Officers present at the Toronto Congress were especially delighted with the announcement made in the closing session of the Councils that Mrs. Commissioner Richards would meet them in the Jubilee Hall on the following morning.

The chief purpose of this gathering was to inaugurate the Home League throughout Canada East, and the women Officers received much light and help upon this important branch of Army operations. Mrs. Richards was supported by Mrs. Colonel McMILLAN and the wives of the Territorial and Divisional Staffs.

After an appropriate opening song, prayer was offered by Mrs. Brigadier Morehen. Other songs were lined out by Mrs. Lieutenant Smetton and Mrs. Brigadier Morris. The singing was of fine quality, considering that no bass voice of man supported the flute-like notes of the women.

The address given by Mrs. Commissioner Richards was certainly inspiring and helpful to all. She took a high spiritual line of thought, speaking with power and authority, and the women Officers felt privileged indeed to have her all to themselves. They listened with the deepest respect and appreciation to the words of one who had spent, as the wife of our beloved Commissioner, many useful and self-sacrificing years in the service of God. Her life has truly been one of toil in the Army. This, together with the placing of her children on the altar for service, all of whom are now labouring in distant lands for the Master, with the exception of the youngest, who is still attending school, make her remarks exceptionally impressive.

At the close of her address, Mrs. Richards introduced Mrs. Colonel McMILLAN, who gave a vigorous, detailed, and impressive explanation of the objects of the Home League and the results attending its proper working. The wife of our Chief Secretary is well qualified to speak on such a topic, as for many years she was the National Secretary of the Home League in Australia. She stated that she was well aware that the League had already been established in some twenty Canadian Corps, and that very good work had been done. It is very desirable, however, that every Corps in the Territory should have a properly organized branch of this work, and she hoped that every woman Field Officer would recognize the League in her Corps rightly. After fully explaining how to organize, conduct, and finance the League, Mrs. McMILLAN related some remarkable stories, showing how it had benefited and blessed many women who would not otherwise have been reached. Here is one instance:—

A very worldly-minded young woman, married to a man holding athletic views, had a Salvation Army lassie come to her as servant maid. Seeing that her mistress was troubled and unhappy in spite of her amusements and luxuries, the Army lassie timidly invited her to a meeting of the Home League, saying that she was sure it would help her. Drawn probably by curiosity, the lady attended the league meeting. The spiritual atmosphere, the ideals of the members, so different to her's, made a deep impression. She came again, and in the end was wonderfully converted.

She only lived for six months after her conversion, but every one was surprised at the great change in her. At the funeral service, conducted by The Army Officer, the husband was deeply affected, and publicly expressed his thanks to The Army for what they had done for his wife.

Another striking story was as follows: A Home League member felt concerned about a neighbour, who was the wife of a drunkard and very miserable. She invited her to a League meeting, which resulted in her conversion. The home was so changed that the husband began to feel contrite of sin. He attended an Army meeting with his wife and got converted also. They are now good Salvationists, and their children are Juniors. A whole family won for God through a Home League meeting!

Speaking of other results of the League work, Mrs. McMILLAN said that it was a means of increasing attendance at the ordinary Corps meetings, especially if the Cradle Roll was affiliated with it and workers undertook to amuse children and babies whilst the mothers enjoyed the meeting. Mention was also made of the Thrift Club—a little bank in which mothers could deposit money from time to time to provide an amount which they could draw on at the end of the year for any pressing need. Without going further into detail, the working of the Home League was made very plain and evidently was thoroughly understood.

PERSONALIA

INTERNATIONAL

The General, accompanied by Mr. Booth, recently opened The Army New War Hostel for Soldiers at Grosvenor Gardens, London, S.W.

Bath was the scene of The General's campaign during the last week-end of October.

Mrs. Booth's coming engagements include meetings at Bangor, Llandelly, Morriston, and Clydach. Colonel Dean has commenced a Salvation Campaign in Ceylon. Late he will visit India, in which country he will spend four months.

TERRITORIAL

CANADA WEST

The Commissioner held conferences with the Divisional Officers and Heads of Departments on Wednesday, Nov. 8th.

The Officers' Council (conducted by Commissioner and Mrs. Sowton) on Thursday, Nov. 9th, were several seasons of blessing.

The welcome meeting to Delegation at night left nothing to be desired; it was what it was announced to be, a welcome meeting, indeed.

Mrs. Commissioner Sowton delivered a lecture to a very appreciative audience at the St. Andrew's Church (Winnipeg) recently.

The Territorial Secretary's visit to The Pas has now been postponed to Sunday, Dec. 17th.

Lieut. Colonel Turner will officially open the Men's Social Building at Winnipeg on Sunday, Nov. 28th. This Institution has, to some extent, been enlarged and renovated. It is situated on Fountain Street.

The Territorial Headquarters Staff were glad to receive a visit from Lieut. Colonel Bond, Editor-in-Chief of "The War Cry".

Major Dobney (the Women's Social Secretary) delivered a lecture to the Cadets on the subject of "The Women's Social Work" recently.

Adjutant Meikle, Captains Doherty and Todhunter, who are present in very poor health, have been granted a sick furlough.

The following changes take place immediately after the Congress: Captain and Mrs. Ainslie to New Westminster, B.C.; Captain Popham and Lieutenant Lissimore to Woburn, Sask.

Lieutenant E. Day has been promoted to the rank of Captain, and will take charge of McLeod, Alberta. Congratulations!

Captain Guy Harris has been appointed to take charge of Kenora.

Captain M. English has been appointed to assist at Territorial Headquarters.

We regret to learn that Deputy Bandmaster Chris Körts, of Regina, has been killed in action.

CANADA EAST

The Commissioner, accompanied by the Chief Secretary, visited Ottawa on Thursday, Nov. 16th; and, at the No. 1 Citadel, gave his lecture on "The Value of a Child." It was also the occasion of the presentation of a Championship Shield to the Life-Saving Guards of that Corps, for their great Self-Denial victory. Captains Mapp and Keith also accompanied our Leader.

On Sunday, Nov. 19th, the Commissioner, accompanied by the Chief Secretary, the Divisional Commander, and the Territorial Staff Band, held two meetings at Wexham, a small town on the outskirts of Toronto. The Town Hall has been secured for the occasion.

Major Turpin is at present visiting St. John's, Newfoundland, for the purpose of auditing the Divisional accounts.

A nephew of Staff-Captain Easton, who is a Lieutenant in the 61st (Winnipeg) Battalion, was wounded three times in a recent action. He was finally carried to the base hospital by a German, whom he had made prisoner.

Adjutant and Mrs. Urquhart, of Wychwood, welcomed a baby boy on Nov. 12th.

Adjutant Squarebriggs, of Windsor (Ont.), represented the Canada East Territory at the funeral of Mrs. Lieut. Colonel Kimball, conveying the sympathy of Canadian Salvationists to the bereaved.

Adjutants Kendall and Blackburn were glad to receive a request to the Corporation of the Town of Niagara for free light for The Army Military Camp Building at Niagara Camp, with the result that a letter from Mr. W. E. Lyall, Town Clerk, informs us that The Salvation Army will be refunded the amount of their light account for the summer. This is very good, and shows the appreciation of the Town for our work in the Camps at Niagara.

Captain Wilson, of Chester (Toronto), has, we regret to say, been obliged to take a complete rest on account of the state of his health. He is still feeling the effects of immersion in the cold waters of the St. Lawrence, when the "Empress of Ireland" went down.

Ensign McLean has been appointed to take charge of Chester; and Ensign Holland follows her as Commanding Officer of the Lansdowne Corps.

Captain Hill, of the Montreal Rescue Home, is getting on nicely after her recent operation, and expects to return to her work in the near future.

Captain Wood, of the Toronto Rescue Home, has also had to undergo an operation. She is making good progress.

THE CHIEF OF THE STAFF AT WINNIPEG

The Thirtieth Congress A Splendid Success

A FOREWORD

It is now Monday night, and I am writing this summary at the back of the stage of Panthe's Theatre—a splendidly-appointed theatre, with a seating capacity of two thousand, including the stage. Magnificent crowds have attended the afternoon and evening services held in this place; the said services being of a most successful character.

The Sunday morning meeting was held in the Citadel, and was a time of great blessing and spiritual power. The Chief was in fine form, and delivered a magnificent address, which was listened to with rapt attention, and attended with splendid spiritual results. The first to come out for reconsecration and sanctification was a man, his wife, and young son. They had been living in a district remote from The Army, and had grown cold. Another was a dear woman, who came leading a child in each hand. Her husband was away at the front, and had just been wounded. There were several others who came out for consecration and for Officership. Altogether, it was a delightful meeting, and the Chief was exceedingly pleased with it.

The afternoon meeting, as I have already indicated, was held in Panthe's Theatre. The Chair was taken by His Honour Sir James Aikins, Lieutenant-Governor of Manitoba. He was introduced by Commissioner Lamb in his usual felicitous manner.

Sir James paid a fine tribute to The Army and to The General; and had some very nice things to say about the Chief of the Staff, whom he had met the day previous at the Manitoba Club. His Honour invited the Chief to meet a number of representative gentlemen, including Sir John Eaton, to be informed on certain aspects of The Army. A most interesting time was experienced.

The Chief's lecture, "How Goes The Army?" made a great hit, and was most favourably commented on by the papers next day.

return to her work in the near future.

Captain Wood, of the Toronto Rescue Home, has also had to undergo an operation. She is making good progress.

There was a fine crowd of supporters on the platform, and some fine speeches made; but these, and the meetings in general, will be fully described next week.

At night another fine crowd, a grand meeting, and twenty-eight for Salvation.

The Councils were splendidly successful. The Western Officers appear to be full of vim and enthusiasm. At the same time they showed a keen appreciation of the Chief's instruction on the deep things of God and his exposition of the principles of The Salvation Army.

The Chief had a time of great pressure in Winnipeg. The sessions began with a supper attended by the Chief and Commissioner Lamb and Commissioner and Mrs. Sowton, Lieut. Colonel and Mrs. Turner, Lieut. Colonel Bond, and Adjutant Smith, with the Western Officers. It was a most enjoyable little function, and the Chief's informal talk with its apposite allusions to Western conditions, was cheered to the echo and enjoyed by all.

The next meeting was an Officers' and Local Officers' Session. It was a time of great blessing, and the kind telegram of Commissioner Richards was received with the greatest pleasure. Amidst the three Councils on Saturday the Chief found time to visit the Grace Hospital, and was very much impressed with this Institution.

Between the Sunday's meetings, the Chief visited the Detention Home for juvenile delinquents.

Altogether, the Winnipeg Campaign has been a great success, and full reports of the proceedings, together with the reports of the Regina and Calgary Campaigns, will appear in our next issue.

The weather has been delightful, dry and exhilarating to a degree.

The Chief of the Staff is standing the stress of the campaign splendidly, and sends his love to the comrades of the East.

—THE EDITOR.

Captain Snowden, of St. Thomas, has arranged for the Annex Hall to be turned into a Reading and Rest Room for soldiers. Quite a number of the boys are availing themselves of this consideration.

Shadowgraphs

BY THE SHADOW

Shadow hears that the Editor's assistants are orphans for the time being, owing to the absence of their fatherly Editor.

Oh, Mr. Editor, the Staff on Territorial Headquarters miss your amiable smile—more than you can possibly conceive.

But, Sir, what a time we had during the Congress—did I not say truly in my last paragraphical communication to your valuable paper that the Chief was grand?

The Officers are stimulated, the Staff is encouraged, and the results will be seen in a forward movement and the Self-Denial and Harvest Festival will pile up big totals through the visit of the Chief of the Staff.

How splendidly the Officers came up to time to each meeting—what attention they paid to every word that dropped from the Chief's lips.

The singing! Did you notice it, Sir? Why, enthusiasm is not sufficiently comprehensive to explain to your enlightened readers the positively ecstatic nature of the whole-hearted singing of the Officers.

Shadow heard the Commissioner say that the whole Territorial Headquarters Staff worked willingly, smilingly, and efficiently during the Congress to make all visiting Officers feel good, and succeeded admirably.

He also heard that the Chief Secretary had pleasurable business transactions with the Divisional Commanders.

The Shadow was quite startled at the Divisional Commanders' Business Council, with certain new features beneficial to the Field Officers, that will soon be introduced.

Shadow smiled to hear one or two Officers retelling at second-hand things supposed to have been said, which were not said. It is wonderful what difference a word left out or put in makes in a second-hand retelling of a business.

Shadow smiled with pleasure—he hears that the Commissioner signed a hundred and fifty letters of Christian Greetings to the boys at the front, before leaving to lecture the Cadets at the Training College.

Large Crowds—Souls at the Cross

Corps in for Victory—Home League in Operation

On Sunday night, Nov. 12th, at the Temple, Mrs. Adjutant Ritchie, of Belleville, was in charge of the meeting. Captain Hayward, a former Soldier of the Corps, testified to the great advantage in God's service, and the emptiness of the world to satisfy a soul.

"Sister Mrs. T. Greenaway sang 'Jesus is Looking for Thee,' after which Mrs. Ritchie gave a stirring appeal on the words, 'Abide with me, for the day is far spent.' She warned the congregation not to allow Jesus to pass by without constraining Him to abide in their hearts. The eve of every life is nearing, and soon the end would come.

Her words gripped the crowd, and when Adjutant Ritchie called for surrenders, two sought Christ. One of the number was the wife of a comrade overseas, and her step not only caused angels to rejoice, but will inspire her husband as he faces difficulties on the battle's front.

OPEN-AIR MARCH

Attracts Attention—Locals Lead On

On Sunday, Nov. 5th, at Dartmouth (says J. W.), our Officers being away at the Councils, the meetings were led by Treasurer, Kitchee and Young People's Sergeant-Major Pynn. Splendid meetings were held. In the afternoon the march to the open-air at the Hall, headed by the Blood-and-Fire Flag, attracted much attention from a number of khaki-clad men. At the inside meeting one of them gave a vivid account of witnessing crucifixion at the front, and pointed out how our Lord must have suffered in the flesh by that barbarous punishment. Sister Mrs. Wimbleson, "Sweetest Name." Everything is on the up-grade; numbers increasing.

INSPIRED CONGREGATIONS

At New Westminster on Sunday, Oct. 29th, we had the pleasure of having with us Brigadier and Mrs. McLean, also Staff-Captain Smith.

On Sunday morning the Brigadier expressed the necessity of God's Word being constantly revived, and his talk proved a great blessing to all. In the afternoon Mrs. McLean inspired us all with her talk upon the rainbow.

At night we had a good meeting, and several people were under conviction. Staff-Captain Smith took an evening meeting, accompanied by his concertina.

BOTH MUSICAL

On Saturday and Sunday, Nov. 11th-12th, at Tillamook, we welcomed our new Officers, Captain Laycock and Lieutenant Haynes. Blessed times were experienced, and work being very near. On Sunday night one backslider returned to God. The Captain and Lieutenant are both musical, and their singing and playing were much appreciated. We are in for victory—H. H.

Oct. 17th was a time that we will not forget for a while in Dangle. We had Brigadier Taylor, Staff-Captain Peacock, and Captain Kitson with us. Staff-Captain Peacock came and gave us a lantern lecture entitled "A Trip Across Canada," and was assisted by Captain Kitson. It certainly was interesting and very educative, and, above all, a very cheap trip for those whose purse would not allow the actual trip. However, it was splendid.

After the Staff-Captain gave his lecture, Brigadier Taylor kindly consented to show some of his war pictures, which were greatly appreciated by all. During the showing of some slides Captain Kitson sweetly sang "If I Wipe the Tear From Every Eye." Thank God, He is able to do this, and is doing it for thousands to-day, who, before this gigantic struggle, never thought of God, but who now find Him their All-sufficiency.

Our Officers, Captain Sibley and Lieutenant Dolson, are doing splendid here—A. B. C.

KHAKI MEN

Seek Christ—Baby Is Dedicated

On Thursday night at Saskatoon the meetings were led by Treasurer, Kitchee and Young People's Sergeant-Major Pynn. Splendid meetings were held. In the afternoon the march to the open-air at the Hall, headed by the Blood-and-Fire Flag, attracted much attention from a number of khaki-clad men. At the inside meeting one of them gave a vivid account of witnessing crucifixion at the front, and pointed out how our Lord must have suffered in the flesh by that barbarous punishment. Sister Mrs. Wimbleson, "Sweetest Name." Everything is on the up-grade; numbers increasing.

On Sunday we had with us Sergeant-Major Burditt and Young People's Sergeant-Major Alward, of Winnipeg. The attendance was excellent all day, and splendid meetings, with four souls for Salvation. Praise the Lord! Hallelujah!

REVIVAL FIRE

Spreads, and Many Seek God

We are glad to report that the Spirit of God is working in our midst at Harbour Grace, and during the past two months twenty-three souls have knelt at the Cross for pardon.

On Wednesday night the Soldiers' meeting was a time that will not soon be forgotten; fourteen Soldiers and converts came forward and consecrated themselves afresh to God.

We believe this is only the beginning of the work, and we are going in for the showers—H. H.

STAFF-CAPTAIN GOODWIN

Speaks Words of Inspiration

Sarnia has been favoured by a visit from Staff-Captain Goodwin of Moose Jaw. Many people gathered to listen to his inspiring addresses given by the Staff-Captain, and gave testimony to the help and blessing received through his teaching.

Young People's Monday night meeting was a time that will never be forgotten by all who were present. Sarnia says, "Come again, Staff-Captain."

God still is keeping His Soldiers fighting at St. John I, and the good work is still advancing. On Sunday God was very near in our Holy meeting, which was led by Mrs. Adjutant Green, and proved a real blessing to each one of us. In the afternoon the Band and Soldiers turned out for a rousing open-air, after which we had a Free-and-Easy meeting, when every Soldier took part; the meeting being led by Bandsman and Mrs. Sparks.

In the evening, after a largely-attended open-air, we had a great Salvation meeting. Adjutant White, assisted by Mrs. Adjutant Green, led on, and after a hard-fought prayer meeting, one backslider and three other precious souls sought and claimed peace and pardon.

God is richly blessing the labours of our Officers, Adjutant and Mrs. Green, by giving them souls, for the night, Adjutant Green is at Toronto, and present, attending the great Councils.

AN ENROLLMENT

Good Times—Souls at the Cross

On Saturday, Oct. 28th, at Camrose, Lieutenant Ratcliffe gave a stirring talk, and one soul sought Salvation. On the following Sunday morning, three recruits were sworn in as Army Soldiers by Captain Skelton, after which, with the Band, we sang "I'll Be True, Lord, to Thee." God bless the new soldiers!

In the evening the Hall was well filled, and all listened attentively to the Captain's words as he spoke.

The week-end services of Nov. 5th were an elevation to every soul. The Spirit seemed to take possession of the Soldiers, and they fought the devil to a finish. On Sunday evening (Nov. 5th) the Hall was well filled, and Lieutenant Ratcliffe was in charge. "The people were very much impressed with the truths that were so well brought out by the Officer, and in the prayer meeting three souls sought and found Salvation."

OFFICERS FAREWELL

After a Useful Stay of Five Months

Farewell meetings were conducted at Clinton on Sunday, Oct. 29th, when Captains Webster and Froud and Lieutenant Saunders said farewell, after a successful stay of five months.

During the day many comrades spoke of the blessings received from our Officers during their stay. At night many comrades and friends were present to listen to the words of the Officers. Farewell words were spoken by each of the Officers, and a powerful address by Captain Froud, one girl sought the Saviour.

A hearty welcome is awaiting our incoming Officers, Captain Krauth and Lieutenant Anderson. Every one is full of faith for great victories during the winter months.

Interesting meetings are held every week at Montreal I, and we are able to report a splendid Harvest Festival record. One lady of $450, or $93 above last year, was secured; the champions being Sister Soldier's Brother J. Talbot, Sister Smardon, Life-Saving Corps Cadet D. Welburn; James Dorothy Trickey and Billie Colton. Brigadier McMillan, who is linked up with the No. 1 Corps, has just concluded a series of successful Holiness meetings.

The Home League has been operations, and, in addition to preparing gifts for the boys at the Harvest Festival record, one lady of $450, or $93 above last year, was secured; the champions being Sister Soldier's Brother J. Talbot, Sister Smardon, Life-Saving Corps Cadet D. Welburn; James Dorothy Trickey and Billie Colton. Brigadier McMillan, who is linked up with the No. 1 Corps, has just concluded a series of successful Holiness meetings.

The Songsters will assist Mrs. Adjutant Calvert at a Thursday evening meeting; also a week-end at the Citadel Band, under Bandsman Goodier.

An excellent Demonstration was given by the Life-Saving Corps, and the same week-end of Young People's Band gave a programme at Montreal VII.

We are in for a victorious winter campaign! Montreal I has just secured 3,500 "Christmas War Cry," which means some tall hustling, but we are in to win.

LIFE'S STORY

Is Given by Farewelling Officers

We are glad to report splendid progress at Humboldt. On Sunday, Oct. 29th, we had Commissioner and Mrs. Sowton, also Major and Mrs. Coombs. Three precious souls put themselves to God at the close of the meeting.

On Thursday, Nov. 2nd, the Lieutenant gave a lecture on his commission. It was a vivid and stirring talk, and he became a well-known light-weight prizefighter.

On Sunday, Nov. 5th, the Lieutenant gave his farewell lecture, 2 Corinthians 6:1. He gave a very impressive talk on this, which drew our souls good.

On Monday, Nov. 6th, we had a little farewell talk. At the close of the meeting Brother Clement spoke a few words on behalf of the Officers, at the paring with our Officers. Sister Mrs. Weeks on behalf of the ladies. The Lieutenant then said a few words of farewell to us. We certainly miss him, but all his friends are glad that he is out on his subject being "What is our last day?"

SOMERSET (BERMUDA)

On Sunday evening, Oct. 29th, most interesting meeting was held, and a very touching address was given by Captain H. A. P. subject being "I should, I stand and door and knock."

Women's Social Officers

MEET MRS. COMMISSIONER RICHARDS AND MRS. COL. McMILLAN

At the Toronto Receiving Home

A privilege very much appreciated by the Women's Social Officers was a meeting held in their special interests at the Toronto Receiving Home on Wednesday afternoon, Nov. 8th. Mrs. Commissioner Richards presided, and was supported by Mrs. Col. McMillan, Mrs. L. J. Rees, and Colonel Rees. After all had enjoyed the nice tea provided by Mrs. Adjutant Adams and her staff, they listened with pleasure and appreciation to the words of their Leaders.

Mrs. Commissioner Richards spoke encouraging, helpful words to these devoted toilers behind the scenes, outlining, what was essential to make them happy and successful in their work. She said that any Salvationist should regard Social Work as a precious opportunity to do good, and value the privilege to this work for God. Her address was plentifully illustrated with incidents from her own experience as a Women's Social Secretary in Denmark, South Africa, and New Zealand. Thus she spoke with the weight and authority of one who knows and her words of wisdom and advice will long be treasured by the Social Officers.

Mrs. Colonel McMillan also gave a beautiful talk relating many incidents in her own experience as a Social Officer in Australia. Having started from the bottom of the ladder, she said, she knew of the trials and difficulties of the younger Social Officers. The victories won and the results accomplished, however, greatly outweighed all else, and she could look back on her experience of Social Work with very happy recollections.

Staff-Captain Holman, the oldest Social Officer present, with a record of twenty-seven years' service, also spoke, relating her experiences in the Work.

The proceedings were piloted by Mrs. Lieut-Colonel Rees (the Women's Social Secretary), who also gave a short talk, and expressed her thankfulness to Mrs. Richards and Mrs. McMillan for sparing the time to come and see them, who so many other duties pressed upon them. She also thanked the Social Officers for their devoted and zealous service. Following the meeting, a social of all present was taken. This will be seen on our front page. The names of the Officers are as follows:—

UNITED IN MATRIMONY BY COMMISSIONER SOWTON AT WINNIPEG

SALVATION ARMY weddings are always more or less interesting, but that of Captain Arvid Norburg and Captain Signe Hed, which was conducted by Commissioner Sowton, on Thursday, Nov. 2nd, at the Scandinavian Corps, was exceptionally so on account of the two comrades being the first Scandinavian Officers to be united in matrimony in Canada. The Hall was crowded to the doors, quite a number present having to stand. The Commissioner Scripture for the occasion—Genesis 2:18: "And the Lord God said, 'It is not good that the man should be alone, I will make him an helpmeet for him.' The command made upon this portion of the Word were in the Swedish language. At one part of the meeting the Commissioner spoke of his own wedding, which took place in Christiania, twenty-eight years ago. This incident he told in the Norwegian tongue, for the benefit of those of this nationality who were present. After a special wedding reception by the Brass and String bands, the ceremony took place, which was of a solemn character. When, however, the Commissioner pronounced the contracting parties man and wife, the entire audience was most vigorous in its expressions of good-will.

The newly-wedded couple entertained Communion and Mrs. Sowton and a number of comrades—Officers, Soldiers, and friends at supper after the service.

Many each parcel. Well done, Dovercourt!

Home League—Well, what about it? Mrs. Commissioner Richards and Mrs. Col. McMillan are married and Secretaries are coming forward.

A Sale of Work opened by the Salvation Army League, Mrs. Richards and Mrs. McMillan returned to their homes with a lovely bouquet of flowers.

Mrs. Brigadier Abby says the two former did splendidly. The Sale lasted two days, and is to buy coal for the winter.

MAKING TOMMY WOUNDED BACK TO LONDON

HOW far the Cockney, who is wounded by shell or bullet on the Somme front, gets to his beloved London depends on the nature of his wounds. Aside from the fact that may never see Paddington Station, Charing Cross, or the Embankment again, it may be that his wound is so slight that, at most, he comes two stages of his journey—on field hospital to base hospital

Orderlies of the Royal Army Medical Corps Bearing Cot Cases into the Ambulance Carriages of the Hospital Express

ad then to one of the numerous hospitals in Paris maintained by his countrymen and women, whence to be whisked off to some chateau under the same auspices where, in a week or two, he is made fit again.

Or, more desparately, but not perhaps fatally, wounded he may continue his journey to the metropolis in a hospital train and boat, to be nursed back to life in London and then to pass a pleasant convalescence at the country house of some charitable patriot. Ultimately he comes back to France or joins the ranks of the blind and maimed on whom science and gratitude are spending thousands to re-make into useful and contented members of society.

Of the diseases which accounted for so many fatalities in former wars he knows little. He is fortified against most of them—typhoid, typhus, dysentery, smallpox, gangrene, and tetanus—but pneumonia and tuberculosis still claim their toll, although in ever-lessening numbers.

Complete official figures are not available, but of the 10,217 officers and 248,000 men wounded in Flanders and France up to Jan. 9, 1916, 20,000 all told, passed through London hospitals, while during the second and third week of the Somme drive, in July the wounded transported from France to England averaged a thousand a day.

If reasons of State require that there should be no hitch in sending the British soldier to France—nearly four millions have crossed the Channel—reasons of humanity also require that, when wounded, no ditch should occur as he returns.

Besides, congestion at hospital bases has, in the past, lost quite as many battles as congestion at military bases, and many more lives. Today there is no hitch in the British transportation system in either direction.

Only in case of emergency do the Red Cross and the Ambulance Corps, whose names recall their public or private donors, venture beyond the field hospitals, where all the wounded are at once taken. Beyond is the domain of the stretcher-bearers. At the field hospitals what might be called second-aid is given by the army surgeons and their assistants. Formerly, and even in the first few months of the present war, it was customary to wash wounds with soap and water before applying a dressing.

To-day British and French surgeons do not wash wounds at all. Instead, the military doctor picks up a wad of sterilized absorbent cotton with his forceps, dips it into a bottle containing a mixture of iodine and benzine, and gently dabs it over the lacerated part. Probing is avoided and amputations, which turned the field hospitals in former wars into veritable shambles, are almost unknown. A soldier's leg or arm may be fearfully injured, yet the surgeon will not cut it off, except as a last resort. Rather than do so, he will leave it alone for a while, to take care of itself after, of course, proper antiseptic cleaning and dressing. He leaves to Nature all he dare.

From the field hospital the wounded are taken to the base hospital, where their cases are properly diagnosed and classified and their ultimate disposition decided on. A British army surgeon recently said in an interview in London: "The 'Strategy and common sense dictate that all bases shall be as unencumbered as possible of large accumulations of wounded and hospital supplies. The latter are sent forward with all possible speed, and the former are shipped home whenever it is possible. It is a clearing house or sieve for deciding which cases can be moved or not. And all the desire of the wounded themselves is to get back to England; they recover here twice as fast as they would abroad—there is psychological reason for this—and are ready all the sooner to return to service in the field."

Many hospital trains, gifts, several of them, like the field ambulances, of patriotic individuals or institutions, run between Paris or the base hospitals and Dover or Calais, as well as between London and Dover. Possibly the most famous is one of fourteen cars known as the Princess Christian Hospital Train, constructed over a year ago and since then many times improved and refitted.

Although possessing several unique features, it may be taken as the type of the British hospital train. The first car contains an office, provided with a bed, fittings, desk, safe, etc., for the quartermaster-sergeant, partitioned off from a ward which contains beds for thirty patients. Numbers Two and Three have each thirty-six beds, with lavatory in the centre, and lockers in four corners. Number Four car has beds for twelve orderlies, with two lockers and lavatory; a kitchen fully equipped, and a spacious store room for linen.

The first part of Number Five affords sleeping accommodations for the nurses, and there are two compartments for nurses' and doctors' dining-rooms, and an office, with sleeping accommodations, for the principal medical officer. Next to this is the surgery, followed by a sleeping room for doctors. Numbers Six to Thirteen are similar to Numbers Two and Three, except that four have two tiers of adjustable berths, and may be used for sitting-up patients. Number Fourteen is an ordinary brake van attached in order to comply with the French law. The whole train is about 700 feet in length.

But between the base hospital and Paddington Station, London, there is also the Channel. Here, thanks to the rapid and efficient organization put into force by the late Lord Kitchener, the most perfect and ample field of hospital ships ever known obtains. They are models of efficiency and comfort, and, as the medical reports show, the far better aboard under these conditions than they could possibly be in the crowded hospitals of France.

These ships are not hampered by the limitations that attach to railways, with their immense burden of transport, to be cleared along a few up-and-down lines. And their crews are much more adaptable for emergency work like this than the ordinary railway staff.

One of the many organizations brought into being by the late Master of War, his change of transport hospital service seems likely to rival the fame of "Kitchener's Army." And it is that "Army" which has had the best opportunity to appreciate its rival.

The other week one of our Chinese converts, living in Limehouse, was sentenced at a London Police Court to three months' imprisonment for alleged assault, but the magistrate afterwards reconsidered the case, withdrew the sentence, and suggested that a solicitor should appear when he heard the case again.

Our comrade naturally turned to The Salvation Army for help. The case was prepared, counsel, on The Army's instructions, attended the court, and after an exhaustive hearing our comrade was acquitted.

It was with much thankfulness that the Chinese Salvationists learned of the acquittal, for they had been praying that justice might be done and that their comrade, who was perfectly innocent of the charge, might be speedily among them again, and now they say, "God is surely with us!"

Under the above heading, "William Ellis, in the 'Sunday School Times,' gives a harrowing picture of conditions in Syria.

"The poor crops of two years have been seized by the military powers," he says. "Disheartened, the farmers (or, rather, the farmers' women folk, for the men themselves have mostly been conscripted into the army), failed to plant anything like the normal crop. They have no animals for plowing, because oxen, horses, donkeys, and camels have been seized for army transport, even as the flocks have been confiscated for food. Stores of food have been hunted out and expropriated. Civilians may starve, but the troops must be fed."

"All foreign food supplies have been shut off. Sugar is now unknown in the land. Kerosene costs four dollars the gallon, an unthinkable price for the peasant. Ruthless war, by the way of the tax collector, the soldier in search of fuel, and the builder of railroads, has cut down olive and other trees. So, as it was in the days of the Old Testament, famine has pitched its black tent for a long sojourn in Syria."

NEWS NOTES and COMMENTS

The Red Cross on the Battlefield—Tending the Wounded Under Fire
The ambulances are barely behind the line of fire; two stretcher-bearers may be seen in the middle distance on their way to bring back the wounded from the trenches.

EFFECTS OF PROHIBITION
COLONEL GRASSETT, the Chief Constable of Toronto, in discussing the effects of Prohibition in the city, made the following statement, which is testimony of the strongest kind as to the benefit conferred on the community. He said:

"Since Prohibition has been enforced Toronto has become a different place from the point of view of the police. The stations are almost empty, the streets are quiet, and the policemen are free now to attend to other duties which before, to a certain extent, were neglected. The number of arrests for drunkenness, during the past six weeks has decreased to a marked degree as compared with the record for the same period in 1915. From September 15, 1915, to October 15, 1916, there were 1,059 arrests for disorderly conduct resulting from drunkenness, while in the same month this year that number had decreased to 214."

DISABLED SOLDIERS
THE Militia Department states that up to Oct. 5th, 1916, 6,208 soldiers have been sent back to Canada because of medical unfitness. All Canadians ought to know what is being done by the Military Hospitals Commission, acting on behalf of the whole body of citizens, for the restoration of their wounded defenders to a position of self-support and independence.

"All foreign food supplies have been shut off. Sugar is now unknown in the land. Kerosene costs four dollars the gallon, an unthinkable price for the peasant. Ruthless war, by the way of the tax collector, the soldier in search of fuel, and the builder of railroads, has cut down olive and other trees. So, as it was in the days of the Old Testament, famine has pitched its black tent for a long sojourn in Syria."

DISABLED SOLDIERS
THE Militia Department states that up to Oct. 5th, 1916, 6,208 soldiers have been sent back to Canada because of medical unfitness. All Canadians ought to know what is being done by the Military Hospitals Commission, acting on behalf of the whole body of citizens, for the restoration of their wounded defenders to a position of self-support and independence.

Every disabled soldier is medically examined on arriving at Quebec. If he is no longer in need of hospital treatment, he is sent home free of expense and discharged with the pension or gratuity according to the extent of his disability. If he needs further treatment, he is taken to the hospital or sanatorium where the treatment most suitable to his case is available, and, if possible, to the institution nearest his home. Men who cannot resume their former work on discharge from hospital are advised and enabled to take special training for new occupations. This is provided free of cost; and while the men are being trained the Dominion Government maintains them and their families. Men needing articles and arms are taken to Toronto, where these limbs are made and supplied without charge. Men with serious nerve disorders are treated specially in the Ontario Military Hospital at Colourg.

AN EXPLANATION
A FEW weeks ago it was stated on this page that coal cost $50 a ton at Pence River and coal oil $1 a gallon. These figures were given by Dr. Clowson, General Superintendent of the Methodist Church in Canada.

Captain Thompson, who is stationed at Pence River, writes to state that this is an error. "The Doctor's speech could not have been full quoted," he says, "as he has been right through a good portion of the country, and is better acquainted with conditions. As a matter of fact coal is selling for six dollars a ton; kerosene (85-40) per ton here, at a coal oil for forty-five cents (45c) a gallon."

"I presume that you are not full acquainted with the extent of the Pence River Country, but I might say that it extends east and west of the Pence River for hundreds of miles, and as far north as the Arctic Ocean, into which the Pence empties its waters; and it is this 125,000 square miles that the Doctor was evidently referring to in regard to the price of coal and coal oil, but I think you there do not pay six dollars for a ton of coal, as they burn wood, but the blacksmith does pay that amount for his forge coal—Roller, B.C."

GLASS HOSPITAL ROOM
THE newly-completed hospital at the Hebrew Infants Asylum, in New York contains one room built entirely of glass.

It is divided into twelve compartments, each having glass slide through which the nurse can see the baby at all times without coming in. Each compartment is ventilated separately. A child having a communicable disease can be cared for in one of these little compartments without any possibility of infecting the baby in the next one, although he may be only three feet away, and the children smile at each other through the glass.

RABBITS AND WATER
HOW the idea that rabbits should not drink ever arose is a mystery to Mr. E. L. Daubeny, of the Animals' Friend Society.

One too often sees these poor creatures confined in dirty boxes, with at best a meagre supply of faded dandelion or cabbage leaves. But our authority points out that rabbits must surely get up to their ears in water. "Zone-therapy," said Dr. Kellogg, will cure many ailments so far have baffled medical science."

TRODDEN DOWN
JERUSALEM is indeed being "trodden down by the Gentiles" in these days. It is reported that the Holy places have been taken over by the Turkish military authorities. Soldiers are drilling at the Jaffa gate, by the Tower of David. The old highways have been taken over into military roads, for the transport of troops and artillery and supply wagons. Times without number a cloud of dust has settled upon Bethlehem, and the Hill of the Shepherds, where the angels sang their Christmas message of peace, because great columns of soldiers have been marching by. In new arrogance and masterliness, the military caste of Turks, reinforced by German and Austrian officers, stride about the land.

A NEW TREATMENT
HOW the most irritating toothache may be relieved by pressure on certain fingers, and the cure of humpback, hay fever, wry necks, and other ailments accomplished by almost the same process, was outlined by Dr. Frederick Kellogg before the Pittsburgh Osteopathic Association.

Dr. Kellogg, in describing "zone-therapy," used stereoscopic slides to illustrate his claims for the treatment. According to him, one has but to press a toothbrush against the roof of his mouth to effect a cure for headache. All one has to do when suffering with a troublesome case of hay fever is to press the forefinger of either hand on a hard object. Dr. Kellogg stated that he generally used an aluminum comb to rub the disease. "Zone-therapy," said Dr. Kellogg, will cure many ailments so far have baffled medical science."

HOW TO GET SOULS

"Lord, give me if but one soul!" was the prayer of a Songster who hastened down a squalid street. "Suddenly," she says, "I was laid upon my dress, and a eager little voice cried: 'Oh, there is a man sweating with here!' From a house close by, the sounds of the most fearful plagues."

I knocked at the door, though it was open. A woman's voice bade me enter. There was a cheerful, alert, man, in a room, in which sat a wart, dark-faced man and his wife, with a baby on his knee.

"It is very hot," I said, "you will me rest for a while?"

The man only scowled. The woman, with a frightened look at him, and placed me a chair. I took a baby from her arms and remarked to her that the child was a little fat. The man looked at his head like a lion and shot a suspicious glance at me. I talked at the neighbourhood, the children, the prospects of the work, and the baby growing sleepy, I began to sing to it:—

"It breaks the power of cancelled sin,
It sets the prisoner free."

The man got up and began to stalk in the room. Presently he roared:

"Stop that! I don't want none of your goods here!"

He didn't give him any more. I went home. I had gone home. The time I visited the house, the man was in prison and I got permission to visit him there. After a while with him he said, "You might that what you sung to the baby?"

He buried his head in his hands, and said, "I am a free man."

His time was up, and once more was free. Again he was engaged in street work, and sent again to prison. Still, I never relaxed my work. On going out of prison the last time, he came direct to me. I saw by his face a desperate man, and he said, "I am a free man."

He began to walk and speak the room, with heavy hands, his features convulsed with grief. He suddenly broke forth:—

"Go over there again."

"Go over there again."

"About breaking the power of cancelled sin."

"I was startled by a burst of passionate remorse. My best to help him. He paced the floor more like a lion than a man. Then he paused. On returned face there fell a light and told me he was free, and soon tears rolled down the cheeks of the man in the room. I knew that, as refused, he would be a powerful instrument for good. And so it fell."

A DAY-BY-DAY CREED

me be a little kinder,
me be a little blinder
the faults of those about me,
me be a little more
me be, when I am weary,
a little bit more cheery,
me serve a little better
those that I am striving for,
me be a little braver,
me temptation bids me waver,
me strive a little harder
be all that I should be;
me be a little meeker
the brother that is weaker,
me think more of my neighbour
a little less of me.

There is a thread in our thoughts,
there is a pulse in our hearts;
we can hold the one, know how think; and he who can move the he knows how to feel.

Boosting The "War Cry"

WHAT CAN BE DONE BY ORGANIZATION AND HARD WORK—
A CHAT WITH ADJUTANT HURD—SOME GOOD HINTS
FOR FIELD OFFICERS AS TO HOW TO SELL A RECORD NUMBER OF THIS YEAR'S CHRISTMAS "CRYS."

ONE of the best agencies for advertising his work and filling his Hall is "The War Cry." The speaker was Adjutant Hurd, and he was well qualified to champion the subject, in view of the fact that he is the champion Officer for "Cry"-selling in this Territory last Christmas. Though his achievements in this direction have already been recorded in our columns, a brief recapitulation is necessary to give point to a description of the methods employed.

In 1912 the Halifax II. Corps took 630 Christmas "Crys." The Adjutant took charge a few weeks before the following Christmas, and, by dint of hard work and good organization, succeeded in making an increase of 1,400. Having more time to lay out his plans in 1914, he disposed of the splendid total of 5,000 copies, sending 3,000 to the boys at the front. He was not the only factor in the success, but he was doing 500 better, and says he could have sold 6,000 had Headquarters been able to supply him.

With the Easter Number he had the same success, rising from 500 in 1913 to 2,000 in 1914; 4,000 in 1915; and 5,300 in 1916, with 700 more on order which he was unable to obtain.

Now, how was this accomplished? The answer will interest every Officer who is anxious to do a good thing with this year's Christmas "Cry."

In the first place, the Adjutant got his Soldiers together, and gave them a special talk on the importance of Army literature in our Work. He urged them to all heartily co-operate with him in getting the Christmas Number into as many homes in the city as possible, pointing out that valuable and interesting information about the world-wide Salvation Army would thus be spread broadcast, and would doubtless help and cheer the buyers and influence them favourably towards the Army. The Soldiers got enthused, and each one willingly took district to canvass. The Adjutant himself set an example of hard work and persistence to his people by taking the business blizzards and going from door to door from morning till night. He personally sold one hundred copies a day on an average.

Another plan he had for increasing the sales was to appeal to his Sunday night congregation to give a special collection for the purpose of supplying the inmates of local hospitals, jails, and other institutions with a copy each of the Christmas "Cry." This he did with 2,000 that year.

In 1914, the first year of the great war, he conceived the idea of sending 3,000 "Crys" to the boys at the front. He got to work on the scheme bright and early. Some day he went around with it to the business men of his section of the city, and asked them to donate the price of several copies of the "Cry" to him. The response was very gratifying—some gave him as many as fifty copies. In this way the Adjutant raised the price of the "Cry" to the point where it was almost impossible to get a copy for less than one penny. He was enabled to achieve his object. Five hundred were sent to the Gallipoli, 500 to France, 1,000 to the Somme, 500 to the Trenches, and 500 to the Reserve Battalions. Some very kind letters of appreciation were received by the Adjutant from Headquarters, and he was glad to hear that the men were to receive their little Christmas tokens from friends in the Homeland.

In 1915 the Adjutant sent 2,000 "Crys" to the front by adopting the same plan, and sent 1,000 on board the transport ship, to be distributed amongst the troops en route to England. He raised the money for this last thousand by a unique plan which occurred to him in a moment of inspiration, after he had been on board the ship and found that the men were without any money at all on any day but one. Going to the barracks where the R.C.R. and other units were stationed he gave a short talk in each of the rooms, asking the men to buy "War Crys" for their moneyless comrades on the troopship. Forty corps men volunteered to take around the collection hats, and in eight or half an hour he was in possession of sufficient money to pay for the thousand "Crys." By this time the ship was steaming out of the harbour, but he secured permission to rush the "Crys" aboard by means of a launch. Bandmaster Peyer (of Peterboro) and Bandmaster Christmas (of Kingston), together with twenty other Salvation Army Bandmen, were on board, and they went around and distributed these "Crys" amongst the men.

"How would you advise young Officers to go about boosting the special issues of 'The Cry'?" we asked the Adjutant.

"I would say to them: Get a sample copy well in advance and go around your town or city taking orders. By this mean you will get a good number actually paid for before you send in your order. A good plan, too, is to ask customers to buy an extra copy or two for the sick and the prisoners, and have them pay for themselves. You can get a good order largely according to your own judgment of how many you ought to sell in the district. Don't be afraid of a large number, have some faith and courage. Get the Soldiers to sell as many as possible, and plan out districts for them to work. Get up a scheme for sending a number of 'Crys' to the boys at the front. Push it with all your might, and you will find 'The Cry' will go like hot cakes."

"Do you find that boosting the special 'Crys' helps the Corps in other ways?" we asked.

"It certainly does," was the reply. "This was evidenced at Halifax II. by the splendid increase in our Self-Denial totals. In 1915 we raised $700, which was an increase of $300 on the previous year. In 1916 we raised over $1,200. I believe that a good deal of this increase was due to the fact that the people got to know and value 'The Army's Work' through reading the special issues of 'The Cry.'"

"Then, again, I am sure that many people have been attracted to the meetings through buying our literature, and I can call to mind several instances in which men and women, in their testimonies, have attributed their conversion to the fact that they were led to think about their own Salvation by some article in 'The Cry.'"

"So you see, I am a firm believer in pushing 'The Army papers' for all I am worth. If any one says that such work hinders the spiritual part of our operations, or that they didn't come into 'The Army' to be news agents, well, all I can say is that they are short-sighted. I don't see the wonderful opportunities around them of getting into the hearts of the people and attracting them to our meetings. I believe we will honour any work that is for the building up of His Kingdom. I believe that He will bless us in selling 'War Crys' just as much as holding open-air teaching, the children, preaching in the Hall, visiting the sick, or anything else we do for His glory."

Bandman Reid, Saskatoon: Killed in Action

One of our dear comrades in the person of Ted Reid, a Bandman of Saskatoon, has fallen in battle for King and country. The letters from the trenches to his brother Walter here express something of his beautiful Christian life.

During Alterations to London I Citadel.

London I, Citadel is, now in the hands of the contractors, and in a few months we hope to have the alterations at finished, and to be able to carry on our work as usual; but it is sure a queer-looking place just now. Nevertheless Adjutant A. Layman makes it well known that even during alterations, "Business will be carried on as usual."

Saturday night was held the first meeting to be conducted in a small Hall, which will be used for week-night meetings, and it was an upper room to each one of us. Sunday afternoon and night services will be conducted in the Princess Theatre.

Yesterday (Nov. 12th) being the first of the series, Ensign Fred W. Martin took the afternoon service, and Captain A. Ashby the evening meeting. The theatre was well filled, and we hope that during these special series of meetings that many will turn to our God and live. Adjutant and Mrs. Layman are still leading us on to victory, and we are believing for good times this winter.

THE FIELD OFFICERS OF BOTH TERRITORIES HAVE EXCELLED THEMSELVES. THEIR ORDERS, WITH BUT FEW EXCEPTIONS, ARE AS HIGH AS LAST YEAR; AND HIGHER THAN ANY OTHER YEAR IN OUR HISTORY. THEY HAVEN'T SHOWN THE FAINT HEART. "BUSINESS AS USUAL" IS THEIR USUAL BUSINESS!

IF YOU KNOW OF ANY OTHER PUBLICATION, WITH A COVER IN THREE COLOURS, AN ART SECTION IN TWO, A SUPPLEMENT IN THREE, WITH SIXTEEN PAGES OF GOOD READING MATTER, SELLING FOR TEN CENTS, THEN LEAD US TO IT! WE DON'T KNOW WHERE IT IS AT THE PRESENT MOMENT!

WE CAN SEND 100 CHRISTMAS "WAR CRY" TO ANY ADDRESS IN FRANCE FOR $7.00; OR ENGLAND FOR $6.00. THOUSANDS WERE SENT THAT WAY LAST YEAR. SEE YOUR LOCAL SALVATION ARMY OFFICER, IF THE IDEA SEEMS TO STRIKE YOU ALL RIGHT.

Deputy Bandmaster Chris Kurts, Regina: Killed in Action

The sad news has reached Regina Salvationists of the death in action of Deputy Bandmaster Chris Kurts, who was killed in France with the 44th Battalion. He played solo cornet and was one of the oldest members of the Regina Band. He was loved by his comrades, Bandmen, and was in him. He never was afraid to stand up for Christ, and always did his part with heart and soul.

He enlisted with the Regina quota of the Cameron Highlanders in October of last year, and afterwards was drafted into the 44th Battalion, with which he went to France, and, sorry to say, his death.

Our comrade's mother, we understand, is living in British Columbia, and we sincerely pray that God will comfort her in this bereavement. An uncle of "Chris" is Ensign Ursaki of Quebec.

Our sympathies are also extended to Bandman and Mrs. Reynolds and their daughter Emily, who were closely connected with our comrade by the ties of nature. "Chris" was of such a cheery disposition, and his place will be hard to fill. This is the second Reginald Bandman to meet his death in action in less than one month. Events such as these are the means of much soul-searching. The prayers of all Salvationists are requested on behalf of all closely connected with our departed comrade.

THE CHRISTMAS 'WAR CRY' IS ON THE MARKET!

BY GENERAL CONSENT, IT IS AS GOOD AS ANY ISSUE THAT HAS LEFT THE ARMY PRESS ROOM. SOME THINK IT IS OUR FINEST. WELL, WE ARE NOT INCLINED TO QUARREL WITH THEM. WE DON'T LIKE QUARRELLING, AND, NO DOUBT, THEY ARE RIGHT, ANYWAY!

YOU OWE IT TO YOURSELF TO SECURE THIS YEAR'S CHRISTMAS ISSUE, AND YOU REALLY OUGHT TO BUY TWO. THAT FRIEND OF YOURS AT THE FRONT, FIGHTING THE EMPIRE'S BATTLES, WOULD APPRECIATE A CHRISTMAS "CRY." WHAT ABOUT IT?

DID YOU READ THE PRELIMINARY DESCRIPTION OF THE CHRISTMAS "CRY" THAT APPEARED IN LAST WEEK'S ISSUE? WELL, IT WAS ALL TRUE. COMPARE THE DESCRIPTION WITH THE REAL ARTICLE, AND YOU'LL WONDER AT OUR EXCESSIVE MODESTY!

THE PRICE REMAINS THE SAME THIS YEAR—TEN CENTS. WE SHOULD REALLY CHARGE FIFTEEN CENTS, BUT THE COMMISSIONER WOULDN'T LISTEN TO IT! WE BELIEVE HE ENTERTAINS THE IDEA THAT A PRINTER'S CHIEF AMBITION IS TO MAKE MONEY ON AN UNSUSPECTING PUBLIC. WELL, PERHAPS HE'S RIGHT!

THE ONLY COMFORT WE HAVE IS THAT "THE CRY" IS WORTH FIFTEEN CENTS, ANYWAY. WE ARE ACTUALLY ROBBING OURSELVES!

THE FIELD OFFICERS OF BOTH TERRITORIES HAVE EXCELLED THEMSELVES. THEIR ORDERS, WITH BUT FEW EXCEPTIONS, ARE AS HIGH AS LAST YEAR; AND HIGHER THAN ANY OTHER YEAR IN OUR HISTORY. THEY HAVEN'T SHOWN THE FAINT HEART. "BUSINESS AS USUAL" IS THEIR USUAL BUSINESS!

ALWAYS TIME FOR PRAYER

Should the new dawn, breaking, a burden bring,
That your soul deems hard to bear,
Seek a boon of grace for a little space;
There is always time for prayer!

With a lift of heart let the day begin,
And a moment's respite spare,
Ere you press along with the toiling throng;
There is always time for prayer!

When your tired feet falter upon the path,
Though to pause you do not dare,
Would you find the stress of the noon glow less?
There is always time for prayer!

When the day's work's done with the setting sun,
Would you taste a balm for care?
With a lift of heart let the day decay,
There is always time for prayer!

There is always time in the morning's prime,
And the golden noontide fair;
There is always time 'neath the evening star,
There is always time for prayer!

SUCCESSFUL MEETING

In Baptist Church—Finances Good

On Oct. 5th the comrades of Carleton (St. John IV.) held a special meeting in the Baptist Church out in the country. About three hundred were present; the sum of sixteen dollars was realized. We were driven there by our friend, Mr. Ritchie, in his car. The sum was about twelve miles; but we came home with no bones broken, and feeling better for going.

Our target of $60 is smashed; we are a little short, but every comrade worked hard, and we are rejoicing over the victory won.

HAVE YOU FRIENDS AT THE FRONT?

For the information of those who would like to communicate with The Salvation Army Chaplains, the names and addresses are as follows:

Captain R. Penfold, care of the Senior Captain, Boulogne-sur-Mer, France.

Captain C. B. Robinson, 30th Reserve Battalion, Napier Barracks, Shorncliffe, England.

Captain Steele, 36th Reserve Battalion, C.E.F., West Sandling Camp, Kent, England.

Please give full name, regimental number, battalion, and as many other particulars as possible.

ARMY SONGS

TAKE MY HEART!

O Jesus, Saviour, Christ Divine,
When shall I know and feel Thee
mine,
Without a doubt of fear?
With anxious, longing thirst I come To beg Thee make my heart Thy home,
And keep me holy here.

I can, I do just now believe,
I do the heavenly grace receive;
The Spirit makes me clean;
Christ, take the whole of my poor
heart,
No chains shall ever from me part
My Lord, Who reigns supreme.

ROOM FOR JESUS

Have you any room for Jesus—
He Who bore your load of sin?
As He knocks and asks admission,
Sinner, will you let Him in?

Chorus

Room for Jesus, King of Glory!
Room for pleasure, room for business,

But, for Christ the Crucified—
Not a place that He can enter,
In the heart for which He died!

Room and time now give to Jesus;
Soon will pass God's day of grace;
Soon your heart be cold and silent,
And your Saviour's pleading cease.

ROCK OF AGES

Tunes.—Vells, 91; Spanish chant,

Rock of Ages, cleft for me,
Let me hide myself in Thee;
Let the water and the blood
From Thy wounded side which flowed.

Be of sin the double cure,
Save from wrath, and make me pure.

While I draw this fleeting breath,
When my eyes shall close in death,
When I rise to worlds unknown,
See Thee on Thy Judgment Throne;
Rock of Ages, cleft for me,
I will hide myself in Thee.

JESUS, I LOVE THY NAME!

Jesus, I love Thy charming name,
Thy music to my ear;
Fain would I sound it out so loud
That earth and Heaven should hear.

Yes, Thou art precious to my soul,
My Transport and my Trust;
Joints to Thee are gaudy toys,
And gold is sordid dust.

Thy grace still dwells within my
heart,
And sheds its fragrance there;
The noblest balm of all its wounds,
The cordial of its care.

ALL MY LIFE

Tunes.—Anything for Jesus, 206;
Song Book, 447.

Jesus, precious Saviour, Thou hast
saved my soul,
From sin's foul corruption made me
fully whole;
Every hour I'll serve Thee, whate'er
may befall,
Till in Heaven I crown Thee King
and Lord of all.

Chorus

All my heart I give Thee,
Day by day, come what may;
All my life I give Thee,
Dying men to save.

From the lowly manger I will follow
Thee,
In the desert and the strite near Thee I will be;

Even the sufferings of the Cross I will gladly bear
If with Thee in Heaven I a crown may wear.

WHO'LL BE THE NEXT?

Who'll be the next to follow Jesus?
Who'll be the next His Cross to bear?

Some one is ready, some one is waiting;
Who'll be the next a crown to wear?

Chorus

Who'll be the next?

Who'll be the next to follow Jesus?
Come and bow at His precious feet?

Who'll be the next to lay every burden
Down at the Father's Mercy Seat?

Who'll be the next to follow Jesus?
Who'll be the next to praise His Name?

Who'll swell the chorus of Free Redemption?
Sing, "Hallelujah! Praise the Lamb!"

MRS. COMM. RICHARDS

stood and appreciated, judging by remarks heard at the conclusion of the meeting.

"This is splendid!" said one Officer; "this has organized the Home League before this, but for the fact that they hardly knew how to go about it. Now we can get to work along the right lines."

That the Home League would be a great asset in Corps Work was the general opinion.

Mrs. Lieut.-Colonel Chandler was the next speaker. She gave an account of her experiences in connection with the Home League work in the Hamilton Division. Part of the time of the members had been occupied in making garments for the soldiers. The needy had also been helped with clothing made by the League members.

Mrs. Brigadier Bell spoke of the League work in the Training College Division, saying that a branch had been properly organized at East Toronto.

Mrs. Adjutant Tunmer, of Halif-fax, gave an interesting account of how the League work had commenced at the Toronto Industrial Corps. Her remarks were of a very practical nature, indeed. The story of how she had secured fifty-two members as a result of door-to-door visitation was unusually instructive, showing that where there's a will there's a way.

Before the meeting came to a close Mrs. Commissioner Richards showed the Officers a neat little button, with a suitable design on the face of it, also the words "Home League." She explained that this badge was to be worn by every woman worker of the League.

Thus a very profitable meeting concluded with prayer and the pronouncing of the benediction by Mrs.
Commissioner Richards. We understand that Mrs. Colonel Jacobs has undertaken the organization of the League at Chester Corps, and another Staff Officer's wife at Rhodes Avenue. Needless to say, the Corps' Officers are delighted. We trust that the efforts put forth at the Corps throughout the Territory in connection with the League will be crowned with success, and that great benefit will ensue to many.—S. M.

The power to do great things generally arises from the willingness to do small things.
